

Reports

Business Value

This module instantly provides you with the information and data you need to analyse your organisation's details and make informed important decisions in real-time. Giving you the insight you need to run your business, WebAtlante's easy-to-use report generator lets you quickly visualize a specific group's work details and attendance.

No more wasting of resources and working hours on preparing reports. With WebAtlante's Reports module, comprehensive detailed reports are just a click away. Simply select the time period and the type of report you require from the drop down list and your report will be ready in seconds.

Advantages

- Web-based operational reporting providing technical and non-technical users with immediate access to data
- Various features to help users extract detailed reports to use in their business processes
- Seamlessly embedded, no plug-ins required

Key Features

User defined report combinations

The users of the system can define how the reports can be combined to fit in with the necessary information for viewing of superiors.

Easy report separation

The module is capable of making separate reports for particular user groups of data defined, based on the authority given and set parameters.
