

Shifts

Business Value

An absolute necessity for the day-to-day operation of many businesses, scheduling and managing work shifts can be a time-consuming and challenging task. To build an effective workplace schedule, a good manager needs to take into account the level of staffing required on any given day, as well as the availability of their staff.

If you own a hotel, restaurant, café, retail store or any type of business with varying staffing requirements, then you know too well that leaving a shift understaffed or wasting your resources can have serious repercussions. WebAtlante's shift management is a customizable solution which can handle the complexity of your organisation and decrease the time it takes to schedule your staff from hours to minutes. Your staff is automatically notified and can view shifts using our app or through the web.

With WebAtlante you can always be at your best even when everything is going wrong. Eliminate shift conflicts and avoid mistakes that complicate data issues and lead to expensive repercussions. Stay on top of your business even on your busiest days and keep customers satisfied and always coming back.
