

Time and Attendance

Business Value

Consistent tracking and monitoring of employee attendance is very important for all businesses to ensure their employees' consistency and reliability when it comes to their own work commitment. Spotting attendance issues in every department is now more accurate than ever, using our attendance capturing device seamlessly integrated into our fully automated online system to effectively manage your company's time attendance data virtually anywhere.

Your employees simply swipe their card or use the App to clock in or out of work and you have immediate real time access to their attendance and time off data to help you accurately process payroll data and ensure that company rules are being fairly imposed.

WebAtlante is a cloud-based solution that simply allows you to gain a better understanding of your employees' attendance patterns and use the obtained information for resource planning and forecasting. Accurate time tracking can lower costs while increasing your company's revenue and productivity.
